WAR AFFECTS ALL

RESULT OF WAR IN AMERICA EXPLAINED BY MR. VAN CLEVE.

INDUCES HOME BUYING

Lack of Imported Goods Will Bring About Larger Purchases In Our Own Products.

(By W. C. Van Cleve.)

The present struggle among our European brethren has affected this country from many different angles. One of the thoughts it has served to emphasize is the apparent interdependence of all the leading countries. Two months ago we, of the United States, the greatest, most powerful, most influential and most resourceful nation on earth, were resting in the serene security of peace and prosperity. We had just been relieved of a disagreeable situation in Mexico and were becoming accustomed and adjusted to new administrative policies. Everywhere there was encouragement and tranquility, when suddenly a cannon boomed in Europe.

We had no direct interest in the troubles of Europe two thousand miles across the sea, we were producing for the world, we were possessed of soils and resources that made us independent of all the earth, so we thought. What cared we how much the Germans and the French and the British and the Russians and their smaller neighbors might struggle and destroy. And yet, before the echo of that first gun had died away, our financial world was paralyzed, our commerce was swept from the seas, our revenue system was rendered helpless and inadequate, government officials were in excited conference and congress, then about ready to adjourn, took a new lease on life.

Pass Emergency Measures.

Patriotic hands steadied the boat. The financial world was reassured, millions were appropriated without a dissenting voice for the relief of American tourists who went abroad to spend their money, but wanted to come home to save their hides, the federal reserve bank act was amended so as to meet the emergency, a bill was passed to enable foreign built ships to register and sail under the American flag and thus rehabilitate the merchant marine and afford an outlet for the products of American manufacturers, and other bills under which the government insures and carries the risk on cargoes shipped during the war, all tending to relieve the critical situation were promptly passed.

Judge Alexander of the third Missouri district has reported a bill, which has the support of the administration, to permit the federal government to capitalize a company for the purpose of engaging in the purchase and operation of commercial vessels between this country and foreign ports. It is regarded as essential by the administration but will meet with opposition from those who believe that the federal government has already taken unto itself too much of the country's activities and that there is abundant private capital to build up a merchant marine under any conditions that would make it profitable and desirable for the government. The bill however, will be pushed and will likely become a law.

The most serious and far reaching result is the loss of revenues from import duties and the consequent necessity of raising money in other ways for the support of the government. The treasury officials estimate that the income from this one source will be reduced by one hundred millions per year. What will take its place is the question that has been troubling the legislative leaders. The president himself appeared before congress a few days ago and urged the passage of a bill that would raise revenues to supply this deficiency.

No Treasury Depletion.

The government is in no distress now, it has a comfortable balance, and some urge that the situation is not yet fully developed, that countries heretofore inconsequential may build up a considerable import business and fill part of the void that is feared, others say that the government should consume some of its surplus before levying new duties.

To all of this the president replies that the treasury is in most excellent condition and the credit of the country is par excellent. That it is important, under conditions like these, to keep it so and not run any risk of its impairment. That these conditions are not of our own making, but that he believes the patriotism of the country will gladly assume its just part of the burden made necessary. The surplus of the treasury has been largely distributed among banks of the country wtihdraw this is tight, would be and to invite dis- . is added revenue little hardship as possible has been a vexatious question. The tooth must be pulled, but it is desired to make it as nearly painless as possible.

The protectionist yells "increase the tariff," but what difference would an increase in the tariff make where there are no imports? A duty of five cents on an Austrian hat would yield just as much as a duty of fifty cents if no Austrian hats were available.

An increase of the tax on beer and domestic wines seems assured. An increase of the tax on whiskies was proposed and fought out. Some of the friends of "red eye" objected to the levying of heavier burdens while other luxuries went free and some of its enemies objected to placing it in position where it could claim credit for coming to its friends and its enemies it may escape. Beer, being more modest in its pretentions and somewhat less despised, will probably shoulder a large part of the burden.

Proposed More Income Tax.

The proposal to enlarge the income tax by lowering the exemption from $3,000 and $4,000 to $2,000 and $3,000 was very favorably considered by many, but the president, it is said, thought it unwise. So the proposition to levy a duty on freight receipts has been suggested by the treasury department and may be incorporated in the bill. The bill, however, will be reported in a few days and the committee report will set out the views of the committee fully.

As a direct result of the war about nineteen millions will be trimmed off the river and harbor appropriation bill.

The war cloud is not without its silver lining. American manufacturers have now the greatest opportunity of their lives to open up and increase business with countries that have been going chiefly to Europe for their supplies. They will also, if they are wise, educate Americans along the line of using American made goods. The word "imported" has long been a charm that has sold many thousand dollars' worth of foreign goods inferior to our own. The same notion that induces women to buy their hats and dresses in a larger town than that in which they live also induces men to buy goods marked "imported," but no better than the home product. While foreign made goods are not obtainable at reasonable prices, is a good time to get the habit of patronizing home industries.

Where the foreign made product is and has been superior, American manufacturers should make an earnest effort to meet it in both quality and design. If it pays, America can meet the world on almost any manufactured product, and it generally pays.

HAS THRILLING ADVENTURE.

Candidate Caught at Hopkins, Walks to Work.

Fred J. Yeomans, deputy county clerk, and a highly encouraged democratic candidate for county clerk in the general fall elections, has the reputation for bull dog tenacity. Fred determined to live up to that established "rep" again this week with the following excitement to result thereby.

Mr. Yeomans went to Hopkins Sunday to visit his mother. While there the 102 river, as it occasionally does, rose up and over its banks and spread its dirty fluid over the Burlington tracks there. The Burlington trains therefore quit running between Hopkins and Maryville, just when Yeomans made ready to return to his county work.

Undaunted, Yeomans tucked his new shoes beneath his arms Monday afternoon and trudged down the mud besmeared county road that leads to Pickering eventually.

Arriving there foot sore and hungry after an eight-mile hike, he begged the use of a portion of a three-wheeled inspector's car on the Burlington. With the inspector and Yeomans aboard, the velocipede werded its way down the line to Maryville at 6 o'clock that night.

Filled with the glory that comes only by such victories over nature, Yeomans has billed into the work at the county clerk's office with added zeal, while his many friends cluster around him as bees hover about a flower.

Visiting in Maryville.

HALF PUPILS HERE

RAINS CAUSE DELAY

Nearly 150 Pay Fees, Indicating About Same Number Have Yet to Come —Maxwell Arrives.

The activity in the enrollment division at the Maryville state normal of yesterday has given way to a great extent today to a slowly rising list of students for the fall term which formally began this morning. This has been caused primarily because of the annulment of traffic on the Burlington branch and the crippling of service on other railroads entering the county.

The total number of would-be-students for this year's term, who had paid incidental fees for the fall quarter at the Real Estate bank yesterday was 122, while at 11 o'clock this morning it numbered but eight more. Early this afternoon, the total was slowly climbing up to the 150 mark, indicating that only about one-half of the expected attendance for this quarter had yet arrived.

At the normal only eighty-one had enrolled for study at 11.30 o'clock this morning. This had crept to near the hundred mark, however, early this afternoon. The enrollment so far indicates that there will be about the usual ratio of young women and men attend normal this term. To every man who registers about three women signify their intentions of entering the Maryville normal.

Rooms Are Filling.

Mark W. Maxwell, the newly appointed secretary to President Ira Richardson, has arrived in Maryville prepared to assume the duties of the office which heretofore has been handled by L. M. Eek.

Proprietors of boarding and rooming houses throughout the city report that the students are gradually scattering over the city and are taking up their temporary abode for the 1914-1915 normal term.

W. A. Rickenbrode, secretary to the board of regents of the normal, said this morning that there was a delay in the incoming student crowd, which was caused, he believed, on account of their inability to get to the stations Monday, therefore making them late in arriving here. "By the time the out-of-town students were able to get to the stations to board trains, they found that in many cases traffic had been temporarily annulled," said Mr. Rickenbrode.

"However, we anticipate as large or larger attendance within a few days than the normal had last year. The training school already has been assured of a larger class than last fall term."

PLAN BASEBALL TOURNEY.

Hopkins Joins in Six Game Contest This Week.

A three-days' baseball tourney is scheduled to begin in Sheridan, this afternoon between teams from Hopkins and Sheridan and Benton and Bedford, Iowa. Two games will be played each day during this afternoon, tomorrow and Friday. All will be played at Sheridan. Prizes aggregating $350 have been offered to the winning teams.

Secretary Jackson Home.

W. R. Jackson, secretary of the Commercial club, and Mrs. Jackson arrived in the city this morning from St. Joseph, where they had been spending a few days visiting Mr. Jackson's parents. Since their marriage on September 8, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have been spending their honeymoon at the Colorado mountain resorts.

To Attend Simpson College.

Miss Lucile Mae Carter, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. Carter of Burlington Junction, left today for Simpson college, Indianola, Ia., to resume her work at the opening of the term. Miss Carter will be a senior this year in the Simpson conservatory of music and a junior in the collegiate department.

Visiting at Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childress and children have gone to Marshall, Mo., where they will spend a few weeks visiting.

KEPT UNCLEAN ABATTOIR.

Jury Convicts Maryville Butcher—Will Appeal Case.

A. Vandersloot, a butcher maintaining a shop on West Third street, was fined $5 and costs, totally $57.25, for maintaining a slaughter house in an unclean condition by Justice Warren L. Johnson last night following conviction by a jury. Vandersloot will appeal the case to the September term of circuit court here, he has announced. The jury deliberated two hours before returning a verdict.

The trial began early yesterday afternoon. It went to the jury at shortly before 10 o'clock last night. The verdict came shortly before midnight. The jury was composed of Edward McMillan, L. B. Converse, John Evans, John Vert, H. J. Parrish and George Conrad.

Complaint against Vandersloot was brought by J. L. Woodford, a farmer, living near the slaughter house which is situated on the farm of Mrs. S. Anna Osborn, a short distance north of Maryville.

CORN CROP SHORT

NEAR BILLION BUSHELS

Country Can Spare One-Third of Production to pay European Obligations, Government Believes.

In wheat only will there be an excess in the country's food crops which might be exported to assist in paying off the nation's European obligations due to the sale of American securities by foreign holders early in the European conflict. The department of agriculture reports today indicate that this is to be a short crop year in every other cereal.

With the largest wheat crop on record—from present indications 896,000,000 bushels—there is a prospect that approximately 300,000,000 bushels might be available for export. With wheat selling at more than $1.10 a bushel this would cost foreign buyers $330,000,000. It will be offset, however, by decreased takings of American cotton abroad.

Last year the United States exported $547,000,000 worth of cotton, but from present indications this year's exports will fall far below that amount.

It is pointed out that there will be little or no corn offered for export because of the short crops. Last year was also a short corn year, and a considerable quantity of corn was imported, as probably will be the case this year.

SHOW CIRCUS VIEWS TONIGHT.

Fern Feature Is Delayed—Empire Depicts "Valley of the Moon."

The annulment of traffic on this branch of the Burlington has placed the managers of motion picture theaters in hot water the last few days, through the failure of scheduled reels to arrive on time. The Hagenbeck-Wallace shows motion pictures which were to have run at the Fern last night and tonight, arrived too late to be shown last night. They will, however, go on tonight.

"The Valley of the Moon," considered by many as Jack London's masterpiece in fiction, was shown in motion pictures at the Empire last night to a crowded house. Jack Conway and Miss Myrtle Stedman were featured.

HONOR CLASSMATE'S MEMORY.

Bronze Tablet Placed in Tarkio School In Memory of Student.

A bronze tablet in honor of Ralph Fayette Marshall, whose death occurred just before the ending of the school year, has been erected in the Tarkio high school by the members of the class of 1914.

Young Marshall was a student of the Normal for a time and had many friends here. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall of Tarkio and a nephew of Mrs. Martha E. Turner of West Third street. While a student in Maryville he was a member of the Normal ball team and prominently known in all activities of the school. He was accidentally shot while cleaning a revolver, the weapon exploding and causing wounds which resulted in his death the following day.

FERN FERN

102 IS RECEDING

CREST OF FLOOD IS PAST ABOVE MARYVILLE.

SERVICE TOMORROW

Burlington May Get Train From St. Joseph—Danger to Water Plant Is Over.

The Burlington will resume regular passenger and freight train service on this branch of the Burlington tomorrow morning, according to advices received here late this afternoon by W. E. Goforth, local agent, from the general superintendent of this division.

The 102 river was virtually at a standstill here at 1 o'clock this afternoon after a fall of between five and six inches this morning, according to J. W. Hilsabeck, who is employed at the pumping station of the municipal water plant. The river, however, had fallen between four and five feet at Hopkins this afternoon and several inches at Pickering.

The Burlington will not be able to operate any trains between St. Joseph and Maryville before tomorrow afternoon in the opinion of W. E. Goforth, local agent of the line, and not over the entire branch between St. Joseph and Creston, Iowa, for several days. The road now has four construction trains on the branch between Rosendale and Creston.

A report received here early this morning that the 102 river was again rising from Hopkins north, is believed to be without foundation. No such rise is reported this afternoon from Hopkins nor from Bedford.

The Wabash experienced the first delay of the week, this morning in getting into Maryville from the east. It was caused on account of soft road beds about three miles east of this city and of a slipping grade immediately this side of the 102 river bridge of the Wabash.

West bound passenger train No. 1, due here from St. Louis at 6 o'clock in the morning, was two hours and forty-five minutes late, while local passenger No. 51 from the east was about two hours late on account of the delay to No. 1. No. 12 from the west came into Maryville but five minutes late, according to the local agent.

Water Plant All Right.

As a preventative against danger from the slipping grades near the 102 river southeast of the city, the Wabash placed 300 sacks of sand last night and 140 more sacks of ballast on the roadbed this morning. One of the dangerous places on the Wabash tracks southeast of Maryville is over the newly constructed culvert across the river drainage ditch. A trestle near the river also is being watched to prevent any wreck of trains.

A work train which has been out on the line here, has gone back to Stanberry for the day. A pile driver will be brought back to the 102 river crossing tomorrow and a number of piling driven to safeguard the grades along there, according to local officials.

The pumping station here is now out of all danger from the 102 flood waters, according to Mr. Hilsabeck, unless another rise comes. "It would take from two to two and a half feet of water to place the pumps in any danger," said Mr. Hilsabeck this afternoon. "The river fell but about five inches last night and none since 6 o'clock this morning. I expect it to begin dropping however, late this afternoon. The water is still running across the road and the low lands near here. The water system is all right though, and no alarm need be felt in Maryville, unless another rise comes."

Conditions on the Burlington this afternoon as given by Mr. Goforth are as follows: Service has been resumed on the Villisca branch through Burlington Junction this morning after a two-days' tie-up because of weakened track near Skidmore. There will be no through service on this branch before the very last of this week and none to St. Joseph from here for a day or more.

Work trains now are stationed between Conway and Bedford, Iowa, and between Barnard, Arkoe and Rosendale. One construction train arrived here this morning from Shenandoah, Iowa, over the Wabash, then went north on the branch as far as Hopkins, one mile north of which 500 feet of track was found washed out and other parts in dangerous condition. It is being repaired this afternoon when the gang will proceed north to Conway.

Marooned Passengers Safe.

Another train has worked as far north as Arkoe and there has found water still running over the tracks from the 102 river and still slowly rising. It is believed, however, that a drop will begin there this afternoon. Barnard also reports the river still rising and some water over the Burlington tracks.

The first washout encountered by the north bound construction train this morning was between Pickering and Hopkins where 500 feet of track were repaired this morning.

The southbound passenger train due here about 8 o'clock Monday morning and which has been caught between two washouts near Conway crossing, has been returned to Creston and the passengers are being cared for, according to advices received here today by Local Agent Goforth.

Harry Todd, manager of the Hanamo Telephone Company, reported all lines in fairly good condition over the county, but that one of the main circuits to St. Joseph had been put out of commission on account of a tree blowing across the line near Rosendale last night. The messages, however, are being routed via Skidmore.

All of the rural route carriers out of Maryville were able to go over part of their routes at least this morning. Herman Barton on No. 5 and J. S. Muntz on No. 3 were compelled, however, to cover but part of their route, then start at the rear of the route. Mail is coming into the postoffice very irregularly and is being routed by various channels.

Near Record Breaker.

The Adams Express Company, it is said, is holding back a great quantity of express matter for Maryville, at St. Joseph until the Burlington trains resume operations. Much freight also is said to be held down the line.

R. H. Strain, a druggist of Hopkins, said this afternoon, that the 102 river there was again back in its channel and slowly receding. "It was the highest it has been, however, since the record breaker of April, 1897, and within about one foot of that flood according to markings on buildings here," said Mr. Strain. "The river did some damage to corn lands and pasturage but is virtually all off now. No great damage has been reported by any person and no bridges are entirely gone in this vicinity."

The Chicago, Great Western road is said to be having little trouble in operating trains.

A one and a quarter inch rain was reported at Elmo last night and this morning, but no verification has been obtained.

The Platte and the Nodaway rivers are said to be subsiding and are virtually back in their channels again.

Maryville Booster Song for October Event Written By Prof. Schuler.

A Maryville booster song, words and music score the composition of Prof. Harry Burnell Schuler, and sung by a male chorus, is to be one of the entertainment features of the October Home Coming. The music is tuneful and sparkling and the words match the score in snap and sentiment.

The chorus is composed of Fred Vandersloot, Hal Catterson, F. L. Flynt, Fred Lewis, Harold Staples, W. H. Crawford, Harry Mutz, Ed Gray, H. J. Becker, Orlo Quinn, Harvey McClary, with Prof. Schuler as director.

Miss Pearl McGinnis, the daughter of Mrs. John Young of Pickering, was brought to St. Francis hospital this morning, suffering with a severe case of appendicitis.

G. B. Baker, president of the Real Estate bank, returned this morning from St. Joseph where he had been on business.

KAISER CONFIDENT

ANOTHER BIG BATTLE

Operations Indicate That Second Conflict As Great As at Marne Is Certain.

(By American Press.)

Paris, Sept. 15.—Another big battle is said to be going on near Oise and Aisne.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—The German general staff announced today that the situation on the West front is still favorable, and that the French and English have at no place on the whole battle front won a victory. The Germans believe that they can now look with confidence to the outcome. No other news has been obtainable regarding the progress of operations further than this. The Germans are becoming even more careful than in the past in keeping their movements secret.

Even the French admit that the German retreat has been remarkably systematic and well timed. Although the Germans have been badly punished in their long retreat they still maintain cohesion and unless the French succeed in getting in between the army of the crown prince and those operating to the west of him, the forces of the Emperor will present a solid front when the next time for a clash comes. If the Germans can obtain the new defense it will give them much better opportunities for defense than the ground they have passed over in the last few days.

The Germans are taking up new positions and their field work that is being erected is expected to stem the tide of retirement. They planned most of their defense to be used in case of a retreat, on their rapid advance into Belgian and French territory.

Homer Croy Writes From Calcutta—Meets Former Maryville Resident.

Homer Croy, Maryville's famous product in fiction writing, in a letter received today by A. J. Croy, father of Homer, from Calcutta, India, dated August 9, brings the information that Homer will not arrive home before the first part of October. He will go from Calcutta to Bombay, thence through the Suez canal, passing over the Mediterranean sea and out into the broad Atlantic.

The letter follows:

August 9.

Dear Pa:

I had expected a letter from you to be waiting for me when I arrived here, and was disappointed not to find one. I suppose it will come before I go on to Bombay.

"I have had a touch of malaria and have been taking quinine and will have to take it for some time once a day. I brought the malaria up from Singapore with me. They call it denga fever out here. Outside of that I am all right.

"I am staying with F. C. Freeman, a fellow I used to room with at Columbia. He is here in Young Men's Christian Association work. I am at his house. His wife and children are up in the foothills where it is cool.

"Also there is another person here in Calcutta that I know, so I feel pretty much at home. Her name is Daisy Wood, and she is the head of a large girl's school. She is a cousin of Curtis Wray's; he told me to hunt her up. She has been here five years teaching. When she takes her vacation she comes back to Maryville and she used to live with her uncle, George Conrad. She was born in Nodaway county. She is coming back to Maryville on a visit in about a year. She is coming with a carriage to take me out driving this afternoon.

"Everybody is excited over the war, as this is an English colony. There are about 8,000 English people in this city. Every report that comes through is very favorable to the English; they do this to keep the Indians from uprising. They have to watch the Indians very closely, for there are a thousand Indians to every white person in India. Their Indian soldiers go barefooted.

"India is dirtier than China. Yesterday we were out to one of their temples where they slaughter lambs and bullocks—a specie of cow. They fasten their heads down in a block shaped like the letter 'Y' and cut off their heads with a long handled knife. They dip their hands in the spurting blood; the meat is given to the poor. There are fifty-one such sacred places in India.

"The war is delaying me so I will not get back to New York quite as quick as I thought. I hope to be back about the first week in October.

"This afternoon I am going to register with the American consul so as to get passports.

"Last night at a meeting I set up with the bishop of India and felt as big as could be.

"I don't know just where to tell you to address me next, on account of the war, so I will have to tell you in the next letter. I don't think now I will go to London so I don't know what address to use.

"There are millions of crows in Calcutta. They are sacred and come up and sit on your window sill.

"From here I am going overland to Bombay—1,300 miles—and from there take the ship again. I will go up Suez Canal."

Mrs. Sarah Miller of Carleton, Neb., Mrs. Henry Hogenkamp of Cromwell, Ia., J. W. Butts and E. T. Sheley of Hopkins are at Dr. D. C. Wilson's sanitorium, taking treatment for chronic sciatic rheumatism. Also William Robison and Robert Beck are there for eye treatment.—Adv.

No Official Information of Atrocities.

Twentieth Century Reassembling.

The Twentieth Century club held its initial meeting for the fall yesterday afternoon at the Elks club. The time was principally taken up with routine work, the reception of new members, roll call and hearing of minutes. Superintendent W. M. Westbrook made a talk before the club, taking for his theme the importance of co-operation of the home and school and the essential part the club women could take in its development. Prof. P. O. Landon presented the coming Lyceum course, which the club is instrumental in bringing to Maryville, giving a short synopsis of each number. Mrs. George P. Bellows gave a short talk about the National Federation meeting at Chicago in June which she attended and this closed the session. A social hour and luncheon followed. Previous to adjournment a vote of thanks from the club was extended to Mrs. E. G. Orear and Mrs. D. J. Thomas for their work in preparing the new year books. The style of the book and the arrangement of calendar have elicited more praise from the club members than any previous number. Heretofore, the books have been made in the club colors, lavender and white, and for practical reasons, the 1914-15 book has been made in brown and cream, with heavy brown cover, cream pages and brown lettering. It is extremely artistic and contains, after the title page, the club commandments, index, officers, department officers, standing committees and calendar. A new department added this year is that of modern drama, the other departments continuing as last year. The executive officers for the new year are Mrs. F. M. Townsend, president; Mrs. J. C. Allender, first vice; Miss Bertha Beal, second vice; Miss Brownie Toel, recording secretary; Miss Mae Orear, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Bellows, treasurer; Mrs. M. J. Honnold, custodian and Miss Marie Brink, auditor.

The Shakespeare department devotes its study this year to King Lear and Merry Wives of Windsor. The department officers are Mrs. M. G. Tate, chairman; Mrs. Herbert Langsdorf, vice; and Mrs. George Richard Eaton, secretary-treasurer.

The Tourist department officers are Mrs. T. L. Wadley, chairman; Mrs. Beal Roseberry, vice; and Mrs. Emmett Scott, secretary-treasurer. The study for this year will be Japan, and her people and customs.

The officers are Mrs. George Bellows, chairman; Mrs. R. C. Benight, vice; and Miss Laura Barmann, secretary-treasurer.

The Music department is under the direction of Mrs. Thad Wilderman, chairman; Miss Eleanor Smith, vice, and Mrs. D. J. Thomas, secretary-treasurer. German, French and Italian opera and composers are to be the year's study.

French Official Statement Says Forward Movement Continues.

PURSUERS ADVANCE IN CENTER

WAR SUMMA Y

The French official statement says the allied armies are in close touch with the Germans north of the river Aisne and in the neighborhood of Rheims.

In this territory General von Kluck's army is apparently making ready for a stand while the other German armies under Von Buelow, Von Hausen, the crown prince and the duke of Wurtemberg are falling back, and in so doing are endeavoring to maintain an undivided front.

President Poincare and Emperor Nicholas of Russia have exchanged telegrams of felicitations on the victories credited to French and Russian armies.

Russian official reports announce that no fighting has occurred in the last twenty-four hours in east Prussia and that the Russian troops, having extricated themselves from a difficult position, are awaiting further movements.

From Berlin comes the announcement that the Austrian troops have repulsed the Servians all along the line of the river Save.

The Japanese troops who are marching against the German protectorate of Kiauchau, in China, have captured the town of Chimo, a short distance outside of the Kiauchau zone. The first encounter between the German and Japanese land forces continued at this point.

Reports from Washington describe government officials and diplomatic representatives as showing expectancy that the Kerman emperor would make early answer to the informal peace inquiry made by the United States.

Paris, Sept. 16.—The official communication issued by the French government says that the allied armies are in close contact with the Germans everywhere, and that the forward movement continues between the Meuse and Argonne.

"On our left wing our armies are in close contact with the enemy on the whole front from the heights north of the river Aisne west and south of Rheims.

"On the center our forward movement between the Argonne district and the Meuse continues.

"It is absolutely untrue, as has been published time and again by the official Wolff agency, that the army of the crown prince is besieging and bombarding Verdun. This city has never been attacked. Only the fort of Troyon, which is not a part of the defenses of Verdun, but protects the hieghts of the Meuse, has been bombarded on several occasions.

"It is known that the violent attacks of which it has been the object have not succeeded and that it has been relieved.

"There is nothing to report concerning the right wing."

Prepare to Make Stand.

London, Sept. 16.—The battle of the Marne has about come to an end and although the allied armies are keeping in touch with the retreating Germans, it is evident the latter are taking up positions to stay the northward advance of the British and French.

General von Kluck with his army has made a stand north of the river Aisne on a line marked by the forest of L'Aigles and Craonne, while the armies of Generals von Buelow and von Hausen, the duke of Wurtemberg and the crown prince are falling back to straighten out the front on which the next big battle is likely to be fought.

Although the Germans have been badly punished in their long retreat and have lost many guns and men they maintain cohesion, and unless the French succeed in their attempt to get between the army of the crown prince and those operating to the west of him, Emperor William's forces will present a solid front when the time comes for another clash, which will be fully as important as the recent battle.

U. S. TROOPS TO QUIT VERA CRUZ

Wilson Orders American Soldiers Out of Mexico.

PRESIDENT EXPLAINS ACTION.

Further Presence of Soldiers of Uncle Sam Deemed Unnecessary—Understood In Official Circles That Warships Will Leave Soon.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Evacuation of Vera Cruz was ordered by President Wilson. The American soldiers and marines under General Funston, who have held Mexico's principal seaport since it was seized by the fleet, April 21 last, will embark for home as soon as transports can go after them, and shortly afterward all of the war fleet, except a few light draft vessels, will be withdrawn.

"The troops have been ordered withdrawn from Vera Cruz. This action is taken in view of the entire removal of the circumstances which were thought to justify the occupation. The further presence of the troops is deemed unnecessary."

Specifically, the American forces were withdrawn at the urgent appeal of General Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalist army, who is in charge of the executive power of Mexico City. Through Paul Fuller, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, General Carranza set forth that the presence of American troops, instead of being a safeguard against further revolution and for peace with the United States, constituted a constant menace to friendly relations.

The Mexican chief contended—and he was supported by Generals Villa and Obregon—that the Mexican people would not understand the continued presence of American troops on Mexican soil and would be bound to cherish resentment, no matter how well-intentioned the American government was or how acquiscent the Mexico City administration itself might be.

TWENTY-SEVEN DIE IN WRECK

Chair Car of 'Frisco Train No. 5 Plunges Into Water.

St. Louis, Sept. 16.—Twenty-seven persons were drowned when St. Louis and San Francisco westbound passenger train No. 5, St. Louis to Texas, plunged into a cloudburst two miles west of Lebanon, Mo., and two passenger coaches toppled into a deep gully swollen with water.

Most of the dead were drowned in the chair car and a great number of these were women and children. Those who were able to escape from their watery prison fought their way out by breaking windows and swimming to shore. It is estimated there were sixty-five passengers in the car.

The identified dead: Henry Wagoner, Harrison, Ark.; W. A. Childers, Clover, Mo.; John Myers, wife and daughter, Thayer, Mo.; J. H. Stockstill, Springfield, Mo., fireman; Vernon Calvin, Rumley, Ark.; George Coxey, Green Forest, Ark.; H. W. Newkirk, Hannibal, Mo.; C. Neal, Ketchum, Okla.; Mrs. Elizabeth Rostetter, Alliance, O.; Daisy Perry; Elsie Calvin, Rumley, Ark.; W. W. Nayler, Springfield, Mo.; August Wetner, St. Louis.

HELPS CLEAN BERLIN ROAD

Petrograd, Sept. 16.—The retreat of the Russian forces before the Germans in east Prussia is said to be a well laid trap to ensnare the Germans in that territory.

According to high officials the retreat before the Kaiser's forces has placed the enemy in a position where they will be unable to march to the aid of Breslau or Posen or interpose opposition to the Russian advance through Silesia, the most direct road to Berlin.

Germany Gets Food From England.

London, Sept. 16.—According to the Daily Mail investigations at Liverpool and other ports make it certain that foodstuffs and raw material are still being shipped, even from British ports, for the use of the Germans. Shipments made from Liverpool last month of canned goods, feeding cakes, flour and cottonseed oil were ostensibly bound for Holland, but comparison with exports of other years makes it more than probable that they have gone to Germany.

VON KLUCK'S RIGHT WING ENCIRCLED

Retire Over 70 Miles From Paris.

EVIDENT BATTLE DECIDED ON.

Digging Entrenchments and Receiving Reinforcements.

WAR SUMMARY

German army in France, drawn up on straight line from neighborhood of Noyon on west to Bois Forges on Meuse, with left wing on German fortress of Metz, ready to make stand against allies.

Austrian army completely defeated in Galicia.

Belgian commission charges long list of outrages by German soldiers in various Belgian cities.

President Wilson in address to Belgian commission and message to German emperor says United States cannot form or express judgment regarding charges made against one another by belligerents.

London, Sept. 17.—The right wing of the German army is now encircled by the allies, according to an Amiens dispatch.

The kaiser's army, which less than a fortnight ago was at the "gates of Paris," and the right wing of which then extended to the southeast of the French capital, is now drawn up on almost a straight line, extending from the neighborhood of Noyon, on the west, to Bois Forges, on the Meuse, north of Verdun, with its left resting on the German fortress of Metz.

Thus, the right wing, at least, has gone back more than seventy miles in two weeks, while the rest of the army also has had to retire before the whole could find ground on which to make another stand against the advance of the allies.

Intend to Give Battle.

They went back steadily before the French and English armies, fighting only rear guard actions until their right, in command of General von Kluck, got across the Aisne.

Then they turned and delivered several counter attacks, which, however, according to the British official report, were repulsed, the Germans leaving 200 prisoners in the hands of the British.

To Give Right Wing Rest.

These counter attacks doubtless were delivered in the hope of giving the troops of the right wing, exhausted by the long advance, followed by a retreat almost as long, the opportunity of resting and preparing positions from which they could resist attacks from the allies and in which they could wait reinforcements before taking up the offensive again.

The Germans are in the hilly country around Noyon, on the plateau north of Vic-Sur-Aisne and Soissons, and north of Rheims, where they are digging strong entrenchments and receiving reinforcements.

Corn Comes Off as Easy as You Please!

"Gets-It" Being Used by Millions!

It is the first time that a real, sure-as-fate corn cure has ever been discovered. "GETS-IT" is the new corn-ender, based on an entirely new principle. It is a new, different formula, never successfully imitated. It makes corns shrivel and then vanish. Two drops do the work. You don't bundle up your toe any more with sticky tape and plasters that press down on the poor corn—no more flesh-eating salves that don't "stay put," no more hacking at corns with knives or razors, no more bleeding or danger of blood poison. No more limping around for days with sore corns, no more corn pains. "GETS-IT" is now the biggest-selling corn cure in the world. Use it on any hard or soft corn, wart, callus or bunion. Tonight's the night.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25 cents a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.
